

Dealing with substance use? Choose a Preferred Provider.

If you or a family member are dealing with substance use, you're not alone.

In the U.S., 14.5% of people age 12 and older have a substance use disorder (SUD)<sup>1</sup> involving alcohol, prescription opioids or other drugs.

It's important to know that a SUD isn't a sign of weakness. It's a condition that can be treated, and asking for help is the first step. Start by finding a SUD Preferred Provider.

These providers:

- Deliver evidence-based care
- Demonstrate superior treatment outcomes
- Will handle prior authorizations, insurance paperwork and claims for you
- Can help you save money, as your co-insurance will be waived after your deductible has been met

Your provider can help you determine the best approach to treatment, based on your age, physical and mental health, and other factors. In many cases, getting treatment doesn't require being admitted into a facility, but your provider can help you figure out what's right for you.
